Kraft to Relocate European HQ to Zurich

10 January 2007

Illinois-based food and beverage company Kraft Foods Inc is to move its European headquarters from London and Vienna to one location in Zurich, Switzerland.

The plans are intended to centralise Kraft's European administration, marketing and production operations. The company has signed a lease on an office building in Zurich and expects to complete the move by 2008.

Affected employees will be invited to relocate to Zurich, but the company has been unable to outline how the relocation will impact jobs.
